Environmental Policy of Wessely GmbH

Wessely Ges.m.b.H recognizes the necessity of an environmentally responsible corporate policy. It reflects our responsibility towards the environment, society and future generations. Environmental aspects are considered in all decisions, combining ecological success with economic sustainability.

We are committed to continuously reducing resource consumption—particularly energy—and minimizing waste, emissions and water pollution.

Through environmentally friendly process design and modern technologies, we continuously improve our environmental performance, aligned with best available and economically viable techniques.

We comply with all applicable environmental legal requirements and strive for further improvements. Identified deficiencies are systematically eliminated.

Employees are regularly informed and trained to promote environmental awareness and responsible action.

In procurement, we prefer products manufactured with minimal resource consumption and emissions. Environmentally friendly and regional products are specifically considered.

Environmental impacts are regularly evaluated. Continuous improvement of our environmental performance is an integral part of our integrated management system.
